Provincial and State Census Chiefs have always corresponded direct with the Census Commissioner for India. Although there have been no specific orders in this behalf, it is an established practice going back to the Census of 1871.

It would, indeed, be necessary to continue the practice this time also as otherwise it would be impossible to keep abreast of the All-India Census Time Table; more so because Census operations threaten to be more complicated this time than at any time in the past.

To

THE SECRETARY
to Government of Mysore,
Education Department,
Bangalore.

Sir,

Ref: M.9886/Census dated 23-12-49.

Sub: Direct correspondence with the Census Commissioner for India.

With reference to your letter under advertance intimating that Government may be consulted before addressing important letters to the Census Commissioner for India, I have the honour to state that Government are, as a matter of fact, being consulted on all question involving decisions at Government level, and it is only in respect of routine correspondence directly bearing upon the census operation that permission was sought in this office letter No.4/Census 1951 dated 7-11-1949.

It has since been found, on a careful examination of the previous Census records, that officers in charge of census operations in Mysore, have always corresponded directly with the Census Commissioner for India, and that at no time in the past had the restrictio of prior consultation with Government been imposed upon them. And this appears to accord also with the practice obtaining elsewhere in India.

On the top of these considerations is the fact that the Census Commissioner for India himself corresponds directly with this office, following the practice established over a period of almost three quarters of a century. Since his letters, for the most part, call for replies by return of post, insistence on prior consultation would inevitably render immediate disposal impossible, and it would be extremely embarassing for this office to send him an inte: reply every time, that Government are being consulted in the matter and that a final reply would be sent in due course.

Whatever justification there might have been for such a rocedure in normal times, insistence upon it in the present ontext, when Census work in Mysore is very heavily in arrea annot but have serious consequences, and thei State which ha ll along enjoyed the reputation of being well ahead of othe tates and Provinces even as regards Census work, would acqui he unenviable distinction of lagging behind them on this occ ion. If we are to avoid this, it would be necessary in the irst place to overtake the arrears and in the second place to keep census work running to the All-India sche le. To do this, frequent and at times even daily correspon ith the Census Commissioner for India would be necessary, an his will necessarily have to be direct.

These considerations may be kindly brought to the notice of Government, and early orders obtained permitting me to correspond directly with the Census Commissioner for India, revoking the earlier decision, in the interests of expeditious disposal of Census work.

Yours faithfully,

CENSUS COMMISSIONER
